Fire in Chicago Business District Wipes Out Square, Loss Is 10 to 15 Millions

Area Bounded by Van Buren Canal, Clinton and Jackson Streets Swept.

ONE FIREMAN IS KILLED

Other Fighters and Unknown Number of Hundred Thousand Spectators Are Injured; 21-Story Burlington Railroad Building Is Wrecked.

CHICAGO, March 15.—A spectacular early morning fire today destroyed a full square of business buildings east of the city, downtown district with a loss estimated at $10,000,000 to $15,000,000.

The fire, starting in the center of the block bounded by Van Buren canal and Clinton street and Jackson boulevard, of unknown origin, burned every structure in that area, leaving a vast area of rubble. The 21-story Burlington railroad general office building, which also housed the Mercantile Trust & Savings Bank and under burden of a strong wind, tipped over Van Buren street southward and burned nearly through to Harrison street.

The fire was not brought under control until nearly 5 o'clock and even then firemen were fighting a losing battle as the wind whirled sparks about.

One fireman was killed, another seriously injured and 100 more slightly hurt and an unknown number of the hundred thousand spectators who thronged the burning district hurt by falling bricks, burning timbers or sparks.

The fire for a time threatened to assume unlimited proportions. Every place of fire fighting apparatus within five miles was called out in a series of 10 alarms.

The rapidly with which the fire spread was astounding. Marshall Buckley, assistant fire chief, said: "The fire actually seemed to run from us."

That the original blaze from which the conflagration started possibly was of incendiary origin was the statement of Shirley P. Hich, city fire attorney, who early today announced the arrest of a man on information supplied by H. P. Schiff, president of the Confectionery Specialty Company at 521 West Jackson boulevard, where the fire started.

It was estimated that more than 25,000 persons were made jobless through the fire.

Today Final One For Filing Tax of Returns for 1921

Today is the final one for filing income tax returns to the United States government. The deputy collectors are giving every possible assistance to persons in filing blanks and the offices on the second floor of the federal building are open continuously.

As today is absolutely the last on which the tax may be paid the office will be open until midnight.

The collectors are very well satisfied with the turnout of citizens in this district. They say they believe Connellsville will stand among the leaders of districts in its class in the amount of tax paid. The present industrial depression has not been very evident in the amount of tax collected from the majority of people.

Persons who have not paid their tax are urged to make out as much of the blank as possible thereby saving time for themselves and the collectors.

4-POWER TREATY WILL BE RATIFIED BY SMALL MARGIN

The Opposition Fails to Gain Support of Country in Fight.

REED'S BLAST WAS WEAK

Borah the Only Irreconcilable Who Displayed Knowledge of History or Ability in His Attack on Treaty; Strategy of Democrats Very Poor.

By Mark Sullivan.
WASHINGTON, March 15.—It cannot be said that the bottom is out of the fight on the four power treaty, but it is clear that the opposition is not going to be any stronger than it now is and that the treaty will be ratified by a small but safe margin.

The opposition has not been able to start any measurable momentum either in the Senate or what is more important in the country. It is realized that the country is overwhelmingly in favor of ratification and the opposition is discouraged by their inability to start even the faint beginnings of any such movement of public feeling as was worked up again the League of Nations.

In the Senate debate the friends of the treaty have done much better than their opponents. Lodge made a good presentation of his case and came out of the backing which the Democrats had prepared for him with so much successful adaptation without being noticeably daunted.

From the Democratic standpoint it was not the best possible strategy to let the beginning of the opposition fight to bleed of Missouri. Reed made a showing which

This Answer.

Human flesh is heir to many ailments, but aside from the acute and the contagious diseases, most people suffer from neglect. They have indigestion and do nothing for it. They get nervous and often sleep poorly and do nothing to cure themselves. From these and other causes they gradually lose strength and vitality and feel tired much of the time and often "blue" and despondent. If you feel below par take Gude's Pepto-Mangan and let it restore your strength and vitality and overcome that weakness by building up your blood to the right richness and redness. Then you will feel fine and vigorous again, and have plenty of "energy" for 30 years to come. Gude's Pepto-Mangan has been the doctor's favorite tonic for run-down

Administration Officers to Meet Bonus Committee

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Mellon, Comptroller of the Currency, Crisinger and Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board will be asked to appear before the House Way and Means Committee this afternoon to give further statements with regard to the bank loan provision of the soldiers' bonus.

In announcing that Secretary Mellon, Governor Harding and Comptroller Crisinger would appear at 2 P.
M. today in open session, Chairman Forney said it had been decided to call them because they had "made statements conflicting with one another."

The Ways and Means Committee voted down a motion to re-insert the cash feature of the bonus and re-impose the excess profits tax and another motion to restore the war-time income surtax rate of 65 per cent.
These were said to have been the only important amendments to be brought up at this, the first meeting of the entire committee to consider the bill.

Chairman Forney said the bill would be reported out as soon as the three officials could be heard and he did not think the measure could be amended further.

The motion to call in the three administration officers was made by Representative Garner of Texas, the rankin Democrat, and was adopted 13 to 11 after what was described as a sharp contest. Seven Republicans joined the six Democrats in voting in the affirmative.

WEDNESDAY EVENG, MAR. 15, 1922.

THE FIRST ESSENTIAL.

The offer of Thomas Kearns of Treasury to donate 25 or more acres of ground as a site for a factory or factory, is an exhibition of the spirit that will make the new Chamber of Commerce a real factor for the upbuilding of our industries, provided the membership and the community generally allow the same disposition of helpfulness to govern their conduct and attitude toward the organization.

Not every present or prospective member of the chamber can match the splendid gift Mr. Kearns proposes to make, and it will not be necessary that they should do so. But the example of willingness to do something to promote the objects of the organization, to help in any and every useful way can be imitated by the humblest member. Such joint efforts, when put forth with the will and desire to cooperate will, in the aggregate, give power and force to any movement the chamber may undertake. Without it progress in any direction will be slow and difficult.

It is recognized as true and commonplace to say that every thoughtful citizen realizes that the time is at hand when Connelville must go ahead or it will be backward. In common with many other and more pretentious towns and cities we have been standing still while the country has been striving to get back to conditions more nearly resembling those prevailing before the great World War. We have lost in some respects just as the whole country has lost, but if we only realize it we have gained what should prove to be the most valuable aid in pushing Connelville forward to a place of greater industrial and commercial importance.

During the war we demonstrated in a most striking manner that it was both possible and easy to do bigger things than we ever dreamed we were able to do. This was accomplished by doing the obvious and necessary thing—uniting our thoughts and efforts in a common purpose and with the intention to serve our country unselfishly and with fidelity to its best interests.

(The need to do something—in fact, to do a great deal—for our city and its best interests is relatively as great now as was the need to do much for our country during war time. The fact we gave first importance to the fact that we were all Americans. If we now give first thought and place to the fact that we are all citizens of Connelville, that it is our home and place of business and that its welfare is our welfare, its rate of progress and rate of progress, we will be able to accomplish still greater things in the direction of helping Connelville fulfill its destiny.

The first essential is to allow ourselves to be become thoroughly influenced with a little of the public-spiritedness like that manifested by Mr. Kearns and other citizens who have thoughtful concern as to how Connelville can be made to grow.

A NEW NATURALIZATION CODE.

If the blight of politics had not settled upon Congress, and the fear of taking decisive action on important measures had not become so paralyzing, there might be some hope that legislation would be shortly enacted that will better regulate the admission of aliens to the duties and responsibilities of citizenship.

After labors extending over two years the House Committee on Immigration and Naturalization has completed a naturalization code which is designed to remedy many of the defects of the present system of making new citizens.

The bill formulated by the committee reorganizes the naturalization bureau of the Department of Labor, changes its title to the bureau of citizenship, extends its scope and places it on an efficient basis. The bill drastically excludes enemies of our government from citizenship. It requires each alien to register annually and to pay a fee of $5. The money collected from registrations is to form a citizenship instruction fund for proportionate allocation to public schools to pay the salaries of teachers in citizenship classes.

The bill would eliminate the appearance of witnesses at naturalization hearings, thereby saving applicants a net outlay of $7,250,000 annually. The bill provides independent naturalization of married women and the resolution of American citizenship by resident American women who marry foreigners. It will end automatic bestowal of citizenship through naturalization and marriage, and requires all to qualify and take the oath of allegiance. It raises the standard of admission to citizenship by requiring applicants to read, write and speak the English language, as well as to have a comprehensive understanding of the principles of our government and the rights and liberties guaranteed under the Constitution.

It is this measure, which shows an enlightened study of the naturalization question, could be supplemented by an equally drastic new code regulating immigration, and both enacted into laws at this session of Congress, that body would be doing much to relieve itself of the odium of being so afraid of stopping on voters' toes that it cannot muster up courage to do its duty to the people as a whole.

The Rainey hold-up bids fair to be classed among the "perfect crimes," which, as defined by the police, consist in being so clever in plan, execution and get-away as to make impossible the discovery of a real clue to the perpetrators.

We know of a certainty that spring is approaching. Fish stories from Florida are beginning to reach the north.

It is a safe prediction that the Standard miner who trusted a daughter's suit and the security of his own home more than he did the banks will not wait another 18 years before becoming a depositor.

There does not seem to be even a clue to a clue in the Rainey hold-up.

People in other wards are anxiously inquiring. Are the property owners of the Sixth Ward as well satisfied with the tax levies as they are reported to be with their assessments?

How can fishermen in Florida waters expect northern friends to accept reports of phenomenal catches when accompanied by no more convincing proof than photographs having painted specimens forming the back ground?

SERVICE.

I have no wealth of gold to give away.
But I can pledge to worthy causes these:
I'll give my strength, my days and
hours of ease,
My finest thought and courage when I may,
And take some deed accomplished for my pay.

I cannot offer much in silver fees.
But I can serve when richer persons play.
And with my presence ill some vacacations.

There are some things beyond the gift of gold.
A richer treasure's needed now and then.
Some joys life needs which are not bought and sold.
The rich occasion often calls for men.
Some for release from service give their life.
But he gives most who freely gives himself.

TARR, March 15.—Miss Ruth Biecher, a student nurse at the Pittsburgh Hospital, spent Sunday with her parents. George Sillman, local news boy, has been confined to his home with an attack of quinsy.

Mrs. Florence Hyke and sister, Esther Biecher, spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Biecher.

An accident occurred on the brick road leading from Scottdale to Ruffs-dale at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, when a roadster driven by Mack Murray of Ayrton crashed into a touring car driven by Benjamy Ray of Central. The collision occurred at the sharp turn at Old Bethany where the road from Tarr connects with the brick road. The front wheel of the touring car was broken off and the windshield broken, while the roadster suffered a bent axle and other damage. Constable John Trennrock was notified of the accident by Rebay, who also claims the roadster bore commercial license plates. A hearing will be given Monday at the justice's office at Ruffs-dale.

The Unity Fraternity Reserves defeated the Methodist Episcopal team in the Y M C A League last night by a score of 20-23. The contest was fast throughout and at times the score was exceedingly close. In the first half the Frat ran up a total of 15 points to eight for the Methodists. The church team somewhat overcame this lead in the last period for a time and then a four field goal again increased the margin.

The Fraternity scored on two foul shots out of 13 called, and made the remainder of the points on field goals. Enleka was the heavy scorer for the Methodists, getting five baskets.

In the second game of the evening the Fayette Bakers came out of the rut and sprung a surprise by defeating the Baptists in a game closely contested throughout. The score was 23-9. The Bakers have been playing better basketball recently and are making their opponents travel.

TWO GREAT CLASHES SCHEDULED IN CITY LEAGUE FOR TONIGHT

In the City League tonight a game which has been looked forward to from the early part of the season—that between the Casey and St. Vincent—will be played. The two teams are expected to draw the largest crowd which has witnessed a City League clash this year and the contest will be snappy from start to finish.

The St. Vincent team can tie with Casey for first place by winning tonight's game and the defeat of St. Vincent by the Casey Club will almost assure it of the championship. As a defeat would practically eliminate the youngsters of the green from further contention on the top position they will fight a desperate battle. The Casey Club will have its strongest line-up on the floor tonight.

In the first game beginning at 7:45 o'clock the Baltimore & Ohio Club will clash with the Trotter outfit. This contest will be played at exhibition and will be fast throughout. Both games will be played at the Industrial Hall, the armory being used in the Industrial Park this week.

Tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Y M C A the Triangle Club of Scottdale will meet the Y Juniors. It is the first game in several weeks for the Juniors and they anticipate a decisive victory. A short practice was held yesterday afternoon.

It will be a little for the place in the City League when the Casey Club and St. Vincent teams clash at the Industrial Hall tonight.

The games scheduled for Thursday night at the Y have been postponed because of the appearance of the combined musical clubs of the University of Pittsburgh at the High School Auditorium that evening, under the auspices of the Unity Fraternity.

Another tie in the City League will be broken tonight when the Baltimore & Ohio Club and the Trotter team clash. These outfits are tied for fourth place and the winner will tie with the Casey Club in the City League Fraternity for third place.

WILDE IS ANXIOUS TO QUIT

Little Britisher Has Gathered Much Wealth and Would Now Lead Simple Life

Jimmy Wilde is anxious to retire from the ring. The little Briton now this year has gathered a big slice of wealth and would like to settle down with his family in Wales.

Jimmy Wilde.

The English flyweight champion especially can't see the idea of making another trip to the United States. Wilde has some bitter recollections of United States income tax laws and how they affect ring purses.

Wilde says that while bigger purses can be had in this country, the stiff requirements of our income tax laws make the net result less than ring earnings in England. Wilde writes that he may engage in two bouts before hanging up his gloves, and they will both be in England.

Western conference officials will take concerted action regarding professionalism in colleges when they meet in Iowa City June 1, according to officials.

"CAP" BY EDWINA

Connellsville's first Bell Telephone switchboard which was installed in 1888 was a pretty crude affair. But it was a marvel in its time.

The first "telephone girl" was Miss Laura Everett who is now Mrs. Megher, of Riddle, Oregon.

Strenuous times were experienced in those days with the old "grounded circuits which were very noisy

But the operators in those days were just as much "on the job" as the girls of 1922. The changes that have come gradually but continuously have been due to the progress of the city and the improvement in the science of telephony.

Every development of the telephone has been toward a better and more economical service.

Maine, Oregon, Texas—every state has contributed something to the telephone art.

And we have the benefit here of the combined telephone brains of a nation-wide service because we are a part of the Bell System.

HAREM REVIVED, RESULT OF WAR

Slaves Furnishes Girls for Slave Market in Turkey.

ARE SMUGGLED INTO TURKEY

Many Captives of Turkish Soldiers Often Sold for $1.50 or $2 When Put Up for Sale in Places Where Auctions Take Place—If Turks Had Faithfully Carried Out Armistice Agreement Many Girls Would Have Been Saved From Harem Life.

War has resulted in the revival of harems in Turkey. Armed strife is furnishing girls, too terrified to protest against harem life, who can be bought from the soldiers, who hold them captive, for as low as $1.50 and $2 each. The man who couldn't afford to buy a harem ten years ago can afford what he pleases now.

Asia Minor has become known as the Twentieth Century slave market. The harem girls are the auction block to which women are brought for harem life among the victorious soldiers. The country's devastated towns along the shores of the Black Sea and down into the provinces of Armenia are being used by slave dealers to carry on their trade.

Harems Filled to Overflowing. The population of the harems has been swelled in the last few years through the demoralization of the Armenian girls as a result of the looting of the villages by the Turkish soldiery. Girls who would never have gone into the harems had the family been intact, have drifted into them from the ruined districts around the Black Sea, from Samzun, Batum, and Tiflis. Their lives were ruined, their resistance broken.

Turks living in lower Anatolia have filled their harems to overflowing with these young women, whom they were able to buy from the soldiery for a handful of coins. Thus the war has enabled the country Turk to start the habit of harem life all over again, just at a time when decreasing affluence and public opinion were mitigating it.

Most of the women in the harems are young. A large part of them are smuggled into the country for deliberate selling. The Turkish girls who marry into the harems do so usually with their parents' consent, although knowing that they will share their husbands with other wives. Other harem inmates for the most part are not consents.

On the signing of the armistice all prisoners of war were supposed to be handed over to the Allied governments. Had this agreement been carried out faithfully many girls would have been saved from harem life. The Turks, however, have found ways to conceal their trafficking in girls. The famous bride school at Samzun is a significant example of their cleverness at concealment.

Girls' School Were Blind. This "school" was housed in an old gray convent, on the edge of the town of Samzun, on the Black Sea. It had been a home for beautiful nuns in the past, for the women of Samzun are all very beautiful. After the Turks took possession of the town the convent was used for those lovely Georgian and Armenian girls whom the officers fancied were worth more than the average captives.

The girls were gathered at the old convent where the officers guarding them said they were to be put in school. The girls believed this until they noticed they were being brought down in groups from their sleeping quarters, where they were kept guarded all day, to stand before officers and merchants, rich farmers and wealthy Pashas. Then one, perhaps two, of the girls would be taken from the convent to the next morning.

Sometimes a girl's entry into the harem is accompanied by the old-fashioned details of a Turkish wedding, but for the most part, she is taken to her new home like a new domestic animal bought at market. For she is, like them, meant for work.

WOLVES PROVE MENACE

These Animals Are a Plague to Mail Plane Pilots.

Ed P. P. Scott of the air mail service, who landed in the hills 20 miles from Elko, Nev., recently when the engine of his plane threw a connecting rod and he was forced to walk for 12 hours through a snowstorm before reaching Elko, is now carrying a 45-caliber pistol when making flights.

A pack of wolves which followed 500 yards behind the pilot as he tramped from the desolate mountain country in which he landed to the Nevada city caused him considerable uneasiness, and he says that he will not take any more chances, in the event of another forced landing.

Despite the severe test to which the pilot was put in the accident, he did not lose one day in mail flying. While his hike through the snowstorm was long and tiresome, he was back on the job Friday and made his regular trip into Salt Lake. He made the regular mail flight from Salt Lake to Elko.

The Song of Slumber. "What I object to about a musician," said Farmer Cornsack, "is that he's able to be so blame inconstant." "But your boy Josh aspires to be a musician?"

"Josh is an illustration of my idea. Since I bought him a new bugle he keeps the family awake all night practicing 'taps'."

The Dempsey. "How did you get the black eye?" "I was doing some shadow boxing and neglected to duck one of my victim's swings."—Wayde Tales.

Charlie Paddock, the world sprint champion and record title holder, now announces that he will not compete in the East this year. It was recently stated that Paddock would come on for the Penn relay carnival and other events, but the other day it was definitely learned that Charlie will stick to the Pacific Coast.

Hugh Hirdman, president of the Wilson Athletic association, which held its annual indoor games at the Thirtieth Regiment armory, Brooklyn, wired Paddock inviting the sprinter here. He received the following wire: "Paddock will not come east to compete in any games. Final"

Useful Oil. Few industries have grown so rapidly as the manufacture of cottonseed oil. In 1907 there were only four cottonseed oil mills in the United States; in 1922 there were 618, and by 1920 the value of the oil and the by-products of it were estimated to be $125,000,000. Since then there has been a steady increase in the production.

The increased consumption of cottonseed oil is due largely to the great variety of uses found for it. It enters into the manufacture of lard compounds, butterine and other substitutes for butter; is used in packing and preserving food, in making salad oils, and in the manufacture of so-called "olive oil." The crude oil is used in medicine, in the preparation of cosmetics, liniments and emulsions; as an illuminating oil in miners' lamps, for rough painting, and for tempering edged tools; and as soap stock, in which field of usefulness, after treatment with certain alkalis, it yields soap, washing powder and glycerin.

"Oh, yes, including a complete set of mortgages."

Not Claiming Too Much. "I see a certain sect claims that next year the millennium will begin."
"Well, for my part I am not such an enthusiastic Republican as all that."

Chinese Wear Stoves.

Chinese women wear practically the same clothes in winter as in summer. In the most severe weather, however, they wear heating baskets under their cloaks.

These baskets are plain wicker ones, such as we use for fresh, inside the baskets charcoal burners are placed. They will radiate heat for hours. The charcoal is mixed with chemicals that generate oxygen, and thus the charcoal will burn constantly, even though it is sealed in the containers.

THE SOISSON.

"A CERTAIN RICH MAN," the most masterful photoplay of all film history, is a screen version of William Allen White's novel. Benjamin B. Hampton, known as a producer of powerfully dramatic, artistic and, above all, human photoplays, is the one producer who could have put into a photoplay all the heart throbs, all the quaint, true characterization, the pure, beautiful love and the homely greatness of the original. After seeing his shadowgram, we believe that he has done the impossible—made this great story truer and bigger and greater than ever! The story is played in settings familiar to every American. It begins and ends in a small town, the original of which is said to be Emporium, Kan., which is the home of the author. The first episode of the novel that appears in the photoplay is in the eighties, another period is laid at the beginning of the 20th century, and the last period is modern. Three sets of characters and plot elements, and three periods in the lives of the characters first introduced are shown.

Tomorrow, Friday and Saturday Viola Dana will be seen in "There Are No Villains."

THE PARAMOUNT.

"THE GUTTERSNIPE," a delightful comedy-drama of an unspoiled daughter of the poor, is the feature picture at this theatre today and tomorrow. The story opens with an exhibition of hot blood on the part of Mazie, the shop girl heroine. Seeing a young man in dress clothes being beaten up by a street gang of ruffians, she jumps into the fray with two fists, 10 finger-nails and a lot of pep. The man in the dress suit looks so much like the hero of Harold Hebbelidge's love story in "Sloppy Stories"! But he turns out to be a soda fountain clerk. And, being young, Irish and good hearted, Mazie still considers him her hero and loves him just as much.

Reading the "Sloppy Stories" sentimental yarn the minute each issue comes on the stand is the way Mazie settles her own difficult problems. She seeks advice in the way the noble Lord Lytton, hero of the tale, and his milk maid sweetheart, handle their own trials and tribulations.

Throughout the action of "The Gutter-snipe" the hero and heroine of the magazine serial are the models by which Mazie and her gentleman soda clerk sweetheart guide their own footsteps.

THE ORPHEUM.

"WET-RICH QUICK WALLINGFORD," the feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre is a comedy of excellent quality.

"Wet-Rich Quick Wallingford" and "Blackie" Daw arrive in the town of Battlesburg, where "Blackie" Daw, Wallingford's advance agent, discovers there is plenty of money awaiting investment. It is the ambition of the two confidence men to remove that money and themselves with it to other parts as soon as they have made their pile. Now that their fraudulent schemes turn out honest in spite of themselves, and the results of their careful planning offer many surprises to the audience. There are many laughs.

Sam Hardy plays Wallingford with great skill, and "Blackie" Daw is played by Norman Kerry with equal ability. Doris Kenyon, Billie Dove and Diana Allen have the other leading parts in a large and wholly adequate cast.

An unusual feature of "Get-Rich Quick Wallingford" was the construction of the sets in the International Film Service studio in New York City. In the last scene of the picture, J. Rufus Wallingford is looking down from his mansion on the outskirts of the city of Battlesburg, Iowa, at the panorama of a great metropolis. This view gives the impression of a distance of 20 miles. A street car passes by in the distance. Electric signs flash. This setting was constructed in a space of 75 feet.

VICTOR ARTISTS AT HIGH SCHOOL.

Among them is Billy Murray, probably the most popular singer of humorous songs in the world. Murray has the faculty of putting smiles into his record work and wherever he has appeared on the concert stage he has succeeded in arousing his hearers to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Murray is a native of Denver, Colo., but early in life he developed a large case of "wanderlust" and as a result he can converse intelligently regarding most any city in the United States. PITTSBURGH MUSICAL CLUBS.

The reserved seat sale for the concert to be given by the combined musical clubs of the University of Pittsburgh at the High School Auditorium tomorrow evening, under the auspices of the Unity Fraternity, opened at 9 o'clock this morning at Blais's Drug Store. It will continue there until 7 o'clock Thursday evening and will then be transferred to the High School.

A long distance call from Edwin Kossy, publicity manager of the clubs, from Pittsburgh yesterday said the hospitality band was delighted with the prospect of being allowed full sway here and anticipated having 11 pieces on the stage. The program of that end of the organization is a real feature and always secures with the audience.

Dawson people are interested in the coming entertainment. Harold Cotton, of that place, is a member of both the glee club and the jazz band. Tickets are still on sale at the usual places and also by members of the Unity Fraternity. There are plenty of good seats left and music lovers are urged to take advantage of the opportunity to hear one of the best college organizations of the kind in this section of the country.
